What we do

Our remit is worldwide and our global portfolio seeks to address an ever-shifting landscape. We own hedge funds as well as traditional equity funds and credit funds. Primarily we back active managers but also select passive funds. We actively monitor and if needed adjust weightings to adapt to the market environment. We believe that this structure works better than a buy and hold approach in volatile markets.

A change in the zeitgeist is here, and investors need to be better equipped to survive some spectacular market shifts from global and political change.

The NAV on 31st July was 169.62p

The Global Total Return Strategy is available separately as a segregated mandate.

The strategy is a multi-asset portfolio and may be considered appropriate for investors with a long term investment horizon who are looking for a consistent return with lower volatility than equity markets generally – typically less than 2/3 of the S&P500.

VT Global Total Return Fund

As at 31st July 2026

The VT Global Total Return Fund fell 1.23% in July with performance held back primarily by weakness across Asian and technology-related equity exposures as growth-oriented equities came under pressure. Emerging markets and US equity exposure also detracted. UK equities were one of the few traditional equity allocations to post a positive result.

Our hedge strategies produced a mixed but generally resilient outcome helping offset some of the weakness elsewhere in the portfolio. The recently introduced Fulcrum Diversified Core Absolute Return Fund was broadly stable over the month and continued to provide diversification benefits within the overall portfolio. Elsewhere our credit holdings were softer delivering modest negative returns over the period.

During July we further reduced exposure to Japan, Asia and emerging markets adding to credit and liquidity. We remain cautious given elevated valuations in parts of the global equity market and continuing macroeconomic uncertainty. The Fund retains significant diversification across equities, credit, hedge strategies and liquidity. Our increased cash position provides both a buffer and flexibility should more attractive opportunities emerge in the months ahead.

Investment and Risk Profile: By investing in funds which invest within Global Total return fund types, you are likely to be looking for an investment which aims to return a positive return, with capital preservation and lower volatility than equity markets generally. You are willing to accept however, that your investments will fall and rise and you could get back less than you invested – also that when equity markets do well, this Fund may not deliver the same high returns in the short term.
